The University of Paris Nanterre, represented by its president Philippe Gervais-Lambony, fully endorses the European Charter for Researchers and Code of Conduct for the Recruitment of Researchers.

The University of Paris Nanterre declares its commitment to fully implement the 40 principles via the Human Research Strategy for Researchers (HRS4R).

Our university supports the initiative of the European Commission to ensure an open and stable research environment to researchers in mobility, in order to contribute to a sustainable European Research Area, for the future of science and of citizens, in Europe and beyond.

Yours sincerely

Philippe Gervais-Lambony
Président de l'Université Paris Nanterre
